OUR ITINERARY

Below is the itinerary we have planned for the trip. As is true on any adventure travel trip, plans for any specific day may be modified due to weather considerations, unforeseen circumstances, new opportunities, and group interests.

DAY 1- May 9

The trip begins at 1 p.m. in Albuquerque, where we meet as a group at our hotel. We have the afternoon to meet each other and hike in the Petroglyph National Monument. The site has hundreds of petroglyphs that were created by both the earliest and the most recent inhabitants. Our hike on the Mesa Point Trail passes lots of petroglyphs as it winds its way to the mesa top. From here a 360-degree view provides views of Albuquerque and the Sandia mountains to the east, the Sangre de Cristos to the north, and the extinct volcanoes to the west. We will have a picnic dinner and watch the sunset over Albuquerque. (D)

DAY 2 – May 10

After breakfast we will pack up and head out for kayaking on the Rio Grande River. The Rio Grande is the reason Albuquerque is located where it is and our kayak trip is down a stretch of river that encompasses the area where the Coronado campaign wintered in 1540. We will put in among a beautiful stand of cottonwoods in Algodones, then traverse approximately 9 1/2 miles of remarkably secluded Rio Grande valley. The river is wide and the waters are gentle in this section of the river. After finishing our kayak we will head to the El Malpais National Monument another type of river this time the an ancient lava flows/rivers. We will explore on of the newest flows just 3,00 years old. Here we will look for lava toes, ancient craters, lava falls, xenolithes, rope pahoehoe; we will learn what these all are and gain a new appreciation for lava. Overnight, Grants NM (B, L, D)

DAY 3- May 11

We get an early start this morning so that we can have a full day at Chaco Culture National Historic Park. Chaco Canyon, the focal point of Ancient Puebloan culture, contains over a dozen major pueblo ruins. While the Ancient Pueblos lived over the entire Four Corners area, their civilization is generally regarded as having reached its pinnacle in Chaco. Advanced building techniques, irrigation systems, and astronomical observations, are all evidence of a very advanced civilization that flourished there around 1000 AD. That civilization collapsed after 1200 AD for reasons that are still unclear and the people dispersed to become the forefathers of today's Rio Grande Pueblo people. The isolation and vastness of the Canyon contribute to its sense of mystery and majesty. We start at the very informative Visitors Center. From there we can visit some of the ruins, possibly including one that is a three-mile hike up on the rim. There is more to see than we can fit in, and we'll leave with a much better appreciation of this amazing culture. Note: The drive to Chaco Canyon takes almost 2 hours each way on rough roads, the reason why it receives few visitors than you would expect Is it worth it? We think so! Overnight Cuba (B, L, D)

DAY 4- May 12

In the morning we head to Bandelier National Monument, home to the Ancestral Pueblo people from the 12th to the 16th century, modern compared to those who lived in Chaco Canyon. We'll start with a hike outside the main canyon, the 1.5 mile Tsankawi Loop trail that goes over the top of an unexcavated large Ancestral Pueblo Ruins site on a mesa top and passes some cliff dwellings along the cliff face. We then continue to the main section of Bandelier, Frijoles Canyon. After stopping by the Visitor Center, we'll follow a paved trail through the middle of Frijoles Canyon that showcases not only several well-preserved easily accessible ruins, but also the beauty of this red rock canyon. After spending time exploring the trails and ruins of Bandelier, we head for Santa Fe, our home for the next three nights. In the afternoon we will have a walking tour of Santa Fe which will get us oriented to the city and introduce us to some of the famous sites. Overnight Santa Fe (B, L, D)

DAY 5- May 13

Today we hike in the mountains behind Santa Fe on a 4.5 mile loop that drips down into a shady valley full of aspen, fir and pine trees. After stopping for lunch and a break at a beautiful spot along Tesuque Creek, we will head back up onto the ridge along sweeping switchbacks to complete the loop. At an elevation of 8,900 feet we will certainly take time to enjoy the flowers! When we return to town you have the rest of the afternoon free to explore Santa Fe's many museums and galleries or the option to visit Ten Thousand Waves, a Japanese-style health spa with hot tubs situated on the side of the mountain. Your guides will coordinate rides to the spa. You can also book a "treatment" for yourself anytime between 3pm - 8pm. Dinner is on your own tonight to explore one of Santa Fe's other culinary options. (B, L)

DAY 6- May 14

We'll leave early for the drive to Taos Pueblo. Continuously inhabited for over 1000 years, the Pueblo is featured in the paintings of many of New Mexico's artists, and its multi-storied pueblo buildings are a UNESCO World Heritage Site. After a guided tour and time to look around on our own, we'll head out to the rafting put-in spot for our picnic along the beautiful and graceful Rio Grande river. The river was designated as an American Heritage River in 1998 and the 1,800-mile river is as beautiful, and it is long. After a picnic lunch, we will get ready for our incredibly fun whitewater rafting on the class 2 and 3 rapids of a section of the Rio Grande called the Racecourse. We will return to Santa Fe in the early evening after having dinner on the way back. Overnight Santa Fe (B, L, D)

DAY 7 – May 15

In the morning we will head to Kasha-Katuwe Tent Rocks National Monument. The 1.5-mile hike will take us a mini canyon, around the rock cones formations to the top of the mesa for an excellent view of the valley and mountains that surround us. The distance is short but the climb (630 ft) will remind us we are working. We will then head south to Albuquerque and a visit the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center which will help to wrap up everything we have learned about the history and culture of the Pueblo people cultures. You could also explore Old Town or perhaps Albuquerque's Botanical gardens on your own. Tonight we will get our final taste of New Mexican cuisine at a nearby restaurant. Overnight Albuquerque (B,L,D)

DAY 8 – May 16

Sadly our trip comes to an end. You are free to leave anytime today. The hotel shuttle begins at 7:00am; if you are leaving before that there are taxis or ride-shares are available.
